

All Hands on Deck

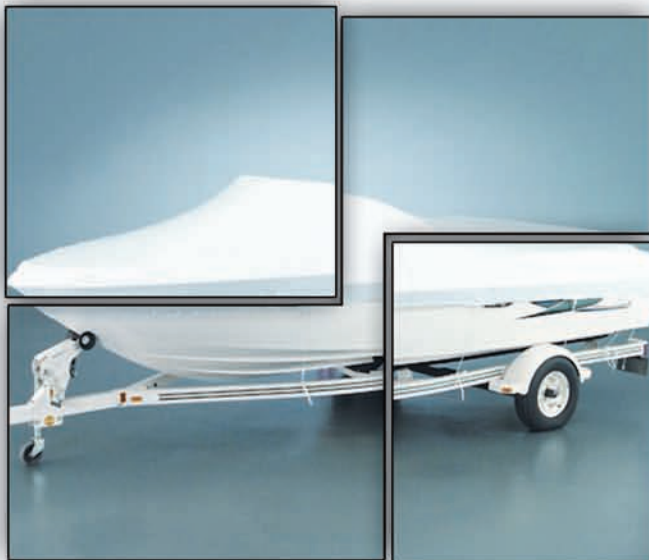

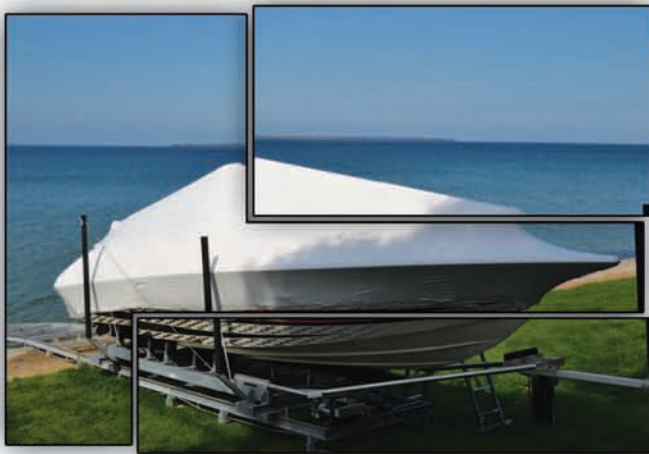

When the days start to get shorter, leaves turn colour and the sweaters come out at night, marinas have to coordinate customer demand against the first snowfall. “All hands on deck” is something you hear when everyone's help is needed, especially to accomplish a lot of work in a hurry. This is exactly how we partner with your Marina. As your partner, we become an extension of your marina, seamless to your customer. Our unique revenue share program means we pay you for work performed on site, without you having to worry about anything. Customers are scheduled for service, contacted in advance and offered a menu of add-ons to ensure satisfaction. Best of all, our partnership is led by you and can take on any shape you wish. We guarantee customer satisfaction and have written standards to prove it. Call AtomicWrap.com now to see if our “all hands on deck” partnership can help you scale up this Fall.
